

NEW YORK Amsterdam News

Vol. 98 No. 28 July 5-July 11, 2007
© 2007 The Amsterdam News

The new Black view

75¢ New York City
$1.00 Outside N.Y.C.

The Police and Our Young

The All Stars Project sponsored a conference called "The Police and Our Young People: What Is Their Relationship?" on June 20, at their performing arts and education center on West 42nd Street in Manhattan. It was attended by over 100 educators, civic leaders, youth and law enforcement representatives. The conference presenters included: Dr. Kwame Anthony Appiah, professor of Philosophy at Princeton University; Assistant Chief Raymond Diaz of the Patrol Borough Manhattan, NYPD; Dr. Lenora Fulani, co-founder of "Operation Conversation: Cops and Kids"; and Dr. Lois Holzman, director of the East Side Institute for Group and Short-term Psychotherapy. The conference was moderated by Gabrielle L. Kurlander, president of the All Stars Project, and Dr. Omar Ali, assistant professor at Towson University.

Dr. Lenora Fulani, moderating a panel of police and young people, and panelists (l-r) youth leader Hanner Leal, Jr., NYS Parole Officer Dalton Bolden, youth leader Dominique Clarke, NCPD Detective Alan Taylor, and youth leader William Santos.
(Diane Stiles, All Stars Project photos)

NYPD Assistant Chief Raymond Diaz, NYPD Chief Douglas Zeigler, Dr. Omar Ali, Dr. Lenora Fulani, Dr. Lois Holzman, Dr. Anthony Appiah and Gabrielle L. Kurlander.